FOREWORD

IN PUBLISHING this history and by-laws of Arcana Lodge No. 110, A. F. & A. M., from its beginning in 1859 to 1934, the seventy-fifth anniversary of its birth, it is the desire of the Lodge to give the members in condensed form a record of the actions of the Lodge, a list of its membership, life members, and a biographical sketch of its Past Masters. The data has been compiled from old issues of daily papers, reminiscences of the descendants of deceased Past Masters and members, old family Bibles, tombstones, The History of Free Masonry of Maryland, by Brother Edward Schultz, and other Lodge histories.

In presenting this compilation to the Lodge membership, the Committee realizes more keenly than others the imperfection of their work. A certain portion is inherent in a task of this magnitude, but the remainder rest squarely upon their shoulders. They can only plead their inexperience and ask that the judgment of the members be tempered with that brotherly indulgence which is so characteristic of Free Masonry.

Although the records of the Lodge have passed through two fires, they are still well preserved. However, since there is only one copy in existence it was thought wise to remove all possibility of their destruction by compiling and printing the records which constitute the Lodge History. With this purpose in view the Worshipful Master William Wallace Rhynhart in the year 1932 appointed the Committee which has completed this exacting duty.

The Committee wishes to extend their thanks to all who assisted in this vast task, and in particular to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Historical Society. They are also under great obligation to Brother Gustav A. Eitel, Grand Recorder. Without his unflagging industry in searching the Capitular Degree records the biographies would have been incomplete.

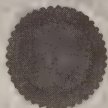

The Committee:

CHARLES W. SKIPPER, P. M., Chairman,

WALTER L. RAU, P. M.,

THE FIRST BY-LAWS ADOPTED BY ARCANA LODGE NO. 110, 1859

ARTICLE I.—TIME OF MEETING

SECTION I. This Lodge shall meet on the first and third Friday in every month, throughout the year, at 6 o'clock P.M. from the first of November to the first of April, and at 7 o'clock P.M. from the first of April to the first of November.

SEC. II. The Lodge shall be opened within ten minutes after the stated hour of meeting, by the installed officer then present; and in case the Master and Wardens should be absent, the last Past Master shall take the chair; and in case no Past Master shall be present, the oldest Master Mason shall preside; and after offering a prayer to the Divinity for a blessing on their labors, proceed to business.

SEC. III. Any member not appearing when the Lodge is opened, shall pay a fine of 25 cents, and if absent for the evening, 50 cents, unless satisfactory reason be given for such absence.

ARTICLE II.—ELECTION OF THE OFFICERS

SECTION I. The Worshipful Master, the Senior Warden, the Junior Warden, the Secretary and the Treasurer shall be elected on the stated nights preceding the festivals of St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist, by a majority of written ballots; afterwards the Lodge shall appoint its Stewards and Tyler.

SEC. II. The officers so elected shall be installed upon or near the St. John's day succeeding such election, when a Past Master shall install the Master, who shall install his officers.

SEC. III. No brother shall be eligible for the office of Master, unless he has been a member for six months and filled the office of Warden in some Lodge; nor shall any brother be elected to the office of Warden unless he has been a member for six months.

SEC. IV. Any member elected to an office and refusing to serve after he has accepted of the same, shall pay a fine of two dollars, and on neglecting the duties thereof, after his installation, one dollar for every neglect.

ARTICLE III.—DUTY OF THE OFFICERS

SECTION I.—Of the Master. The Master shall preside on every night the Lodge assembles. He shall see that the By-Laws, the regulations of the Grand Lodge, and the ancient usages of Masonry are duly observed; that his Wardens discharge their duty faithfully; that due and exact minutes and entries of all proceedings be made and kept by the Secretary; that the Treasurer render exact and just accounts, according to the By-Laws and orders of the Lodge. It is his duty, together with his Wardens, to attend the Grand Lodge at every communication, unless, by the consent of the Lodge, other brethren should be appointed for that purpose.

The Master has the right of appointing his deacon immediately after his installation, of convening the members and holding a Lodge whenever he shall deem it expedient. He has the power, by and with the advice of the Standing Committee, on any emergent occasion when it shall appear dangerous for the brethren to meet, to suspend the first article of these By-Laws.

The Master shall not enter on any business on the third Friday, until he or some brother by him appointed, has first given a lecture on one of the three degrees of Masonry, or a discourse on some moral subject, after which he may proceed to any other business.

SEC. II.—Of the Wardens. The Senior Warden succeeds to all the duties of the Master, and fills the chair in his absence. He has the right of appointing his deacon immediately after his installation. In the absence of the Senior Warden all his authority devolves on the Junior Warden; but the Wardens may call on a Past Master, who is present, to take the chair. Nevertheless such Past Master still holds his authority under the Senior Warden, and cannot act until he congregates the Lodge.

It is the duty of the Wardens to assist the Master in conducting the business of the Lodge, and managing the craft, in due order and form, according to the By-Laws, and ancient usages of Masons.

SEC. III.—Of the Secretary. All the books and papers of the Lodge, except those of the Treasurer, shall be under the care of the Secretary. He shall keep fair records of all the transactions of the Lodge; issue summonses to all the members, to notify them of every meeting; open a separate account for every member; charge what moneys may become due, and give credit as it may be received; he shall open a general account, in which all moneys received and expended shall be entered, which account shall be closed at every quarterly meeting. He shall read the last night's proceedings immediately after the Lodge has been opened, and previous to entering on any business.

SEC. IV.—Of the Treasurer. It is the duty of the Treasurer to keep exact accounts of all moneys received, and to pay all orders drawn upon him by the authority of the Lodge. He is to keep regular entries, both of his receipts and disbursements, and to have his books and vouchers ready for examination at every quarterly meeting, or when specially called upon by the Master and brethren.

SEC. V.—Of the Deacons. The Deacons are to assist the Wardens in the execution of their duty, to examine and welcome visiting brethren, to prepare candidates, and perform such other services as are assigned them.

SEC. VI.—Of the Stewards. The Stewards are to provide refreshments, and make a regular report of the expense to the Treasurer; and to see that the regalia of the Lodge are in good order, and always ready for use.

SEC. VII.—Of the Tyler. The Tyler shall be allowed one dollar for every night the Lodge assembles, and at which he attends his duty, together with one dollar for every member initiated and admitted. He shall tyle the Lodge faithfully, go on messages, serve summonses, procure such things as may be ordered by the Master, and keep the Lodge room and utensils belonging to it, neat and in good order.

ARTICLE IV.—INITIATIONS AND ADMISSIONS

SECTION I. Every person desirous of being made a Free Mason in this Lodge shall apply by petition, signed by himself, through a member, who shall give an account of his age, trade or occupation, character and place of residence, declare the candidate has read and approved the By-Laws, and deposit the sum of five dollars on account of his fees.

SEC. II. The person so proposed shall be balloted for at the next stated Lodge night (unless in case of emergency, and when the candidate is generally known to be a man of virtuous principles and of untainted integrity and honor), that in the interval proper inquiry may be made into his character by brethren appointed for that purpose; and if on ballot being taken there shall not appear one negative, he shall be initiated into the first degree; but if a negative appear, his deposit shall be returned in a polite manner.

SEC. III. If any candidate has been accepted, and does not appear to claim the benefit thereof, within two months after he was balloted for, his deposit shall be forfeited, and applied to the use of the charity fund, unless satisfactory reason be given for his non-attendance.

SEC. IV. Every ancient Mason desirous of becoming a member, shall have visited the Lodge on a stated night; and after having deposited his certificate from the Lodge to which he formerly belonged, or given convincing proofs of his being a regular Mason, he shall be balloted for in the same manner as specified in the second section of this Article.

SEC. V. Every person initiated in this Lodge shall pay into the hands of the Treasurer, on receiving the first degree, fifteen dollars, including his deposit; on receiving the second degree, eight dollars; on receiving the third degree, ten dollars; and if a Mason, eight dollars for becoming a member.

ARTICLE V.—NOT TO DISCOVER THE TRANSACTIONS OF THE LODGE

When a candidate is proposed for initiation, or any brother to become a member, if it should appear on ballot that he is rejected, no member or visitor shall discover either directly or indirectly to such person, or any other out of the Lodge, any conversation which may have taken place on the subject; nor shall they discover any other transactions of the Lodge, unless it be to a member, under the penalty, if the offender be a member, of his being suspended for six months, and if a visitor, of his never again being permitted to visit.

ARTICLE VI.—FUNDS

SECTION I. The funds of this Lodge shall be deposited in a chest, furnished with three locks and keys; one key to be kept by the Master, one by the Senior Warden, and one by the Treasurer.

SEC. II. Whenever the funds in the chest exceed one hundred dollars, the overplus may be put on interest, for any time not exceeding six months, by taking a note with two sufficient sureties, who are not Masons, and approved of by the Standing Committee; but no money shall be loaned out, unless two-thirds of the members present on a stated Lodge night agree thereto, and the sum so loaned does not exceed one hundred dollars to any one person.

ARTICLE VII.—CHARITY FUND

There shall be established a fund of charity, to which purpose shall be appropriated one dollar from each candidate on admission; one dollar from each brother, on being admitted a member; the moneys collected from visiting members, and the fines which may be incurred and paid by the members; which fund shall be at the disposal of the Standing Committee, who, if it should not prove sufficient for the benevolent purposes of the institution, are empowered to draw on the funds of the Lodge for such sums as may be requisite.

ARTICLE VIII.—STANDING COMMITTEE

The Master, Past Masters, Wardens, Secretary and Treasurer shall be a Standing Committee for the purpose of taking cognizance of the behavior of the members out of the Lodge, for settling private disputes between members, cementing the harmony of the Lodge, and regulating its affairs.

ARTICLE IX.—DISTRESSED MASONS

On the application of any distressed brother for assistance, he shall be examined by the Standing Committee, immediately after such application has been made to any of them, who, if they find him worthy, are empowered to draw on the Treasurer for any sum not exceeding ten dollars to any one brother. Any failure herein, by any of the committee, or the Treasurer, in paying the same, shall be considered as a crime militating in the most direct point against our divine institution, whose corner-stone is heaven-born charity.

ARTICLE X.—DUTY OF MEMBERS

SECTION I. Every member intending to speak shall rise and address the chair, nor shall he be interrupted unless he is deviating from the subject, when the Master shall call him to order; after he has been set right, he may again proceed, but no member shall speak more than twice on the same subject, unless to explain, or when called upon by the Master.

SEC. II. If more than one member shall rise at the same time, the Master shall order him, who in his opinion was up first, to proceed; on which the other shall immediately take his seat, until the member up has done speaking, under the penalty of twenty-five cents.

SEC. III. Any member who shall move about from place to place (unless in the execution of his office), go out without leave of the Master, speak profanely, or whisper, shall pay a fine of twenty-five cents for the first offence, and for a second offence, be ordered out of the Lodge.

SEC. IV. Every member shall appear clean and decently dressed, under the penalty of being ordered out of the Lodge; and if any one should presume to come in a state of inebriation, he shall pay fifty cents for the first offence, double for the second, and for the third offence be excluded for three months, or suffer such other degradation as the Lodge shall direct.

SEC. V. Any member receiving regular summonses, and not attending for three months, shall be considered as having withdrawn himself from the Lodge, unless he can procure satisfactory reasons for his non-attendance.

SEC. VI. If any brother should so far forget himself as to use profane language, abuse, quarrel, or promote quarrels among his brethren after the Lodge is closed, he shall, on being convicted thereof, pay a fine of one dollar for the first offence, and for the second offence, suffer such degradation as the Lodge shall direct.

ARTICLE XI.—VOTING

SECTION I. No member shall be permitted to vote until he has paid his fines and dues to the quarter then current, and in all cases, on an equality of votes, the Master shall have the casting vote.

SEC. II. If on balloting on any occasion, a member shall discover what ball he intends, or has put in, such brother shall pay a fine of two dollars.

ARTICLE XII.—INTERMISSIONS AND DIPLOMAS

Any member wishing to withdraw himself from the Lodge shall signify his desire in writing on a stated night, and pay to the Treasurer all arrears due by him, including the quarter then current, when he shall be entitled to a diploma, for which he shall pay one dollar to the Secretary, and one dollar to the charity fund.

SEC. II. Every member claiming a diploma shall declare in his application whether it is his wish to discontinue as a member, or to have a diploma on account of business rendering it necessary for him to remove. In the latter case, if he delivers his diploma to the Master on any of the three stated meetings of the Lodge, next after his return, he shall possess all the privileges of the Lodge; but no diploma or intermissions shall be granted to a brother who is under censure.

ARTICLE XIII.—DUES AND FINES

SECTION I. Every member shall pay into the funds of the Lodge a yearly subscription of four dollars in four equal payments, at the meetings of the first Friday in March, June, September and December, together with all fines by him incurred.

SEC. II. If any member shall neglect, or refuse to pay his dues, within three months after they become due, and having particular notice at the next quarterly meeting, he shall be considered as having withdrawn from the Lodge. In case he afterwards applies for re-admission, he shall pay eight dollars, together with all his former arrears.

ARTICLE XIV.—VISITORS

Every visiting brother shall, previous to his being admitted, deliver to the Tyler his certificate or his name, in writing, with the number of the Lodge to which he belongs; and if a resident of this city, and not a member of any Lodge, he shall, after the first visit, pay fifty cents, and the same sum for every other visit thereafter, to be applied to the charity fund.

ARTICLE XV

All former laws are hereby repealed; nor can any alteration take place in these laws, unless proposed in the form of a motion, on a stated lodge night, and agreed to by a majority of the members present; and on the next monthly meeting the same shall be taken in consideration. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to furnish every brother with a particular notice of such meeting, and unless two-thirds of the members then present concur in such amendment, it cannot be valid.

AMENDMENTS

ARTICLE I.—SECTION I

This Lodge shall meet on the first, third and fifth Mondays of each month.

ARTICLE III.—SECTION VII

The Tyler shall receive one dollar for each meeting night (to omit Tyler's fee for initiation and admission) balance of section adopted.

ARTICLE IV.—SECTION V

Every person initiated in this Lodge, shall pay an initiation fee of twenty-five dollars.

The Lodge admit Master Masons as members of this Lodge at one dollar for one month from date, August 25, 1859.

ARTICLE XXIII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE GRAND LODGE

OF SUBORDINATE LODGES

SECTION 1. Every Lodge shall assemble for work at least once in each month, except the months of July, August and September, during which it may assemble or not, at the option of the Worshipful Master; and every Lodge that shall neglect to assemble during the space of one year, shall thereby forfeit its charter. No Lodge shall hold its meetings on the first or Lord's Day, usually called Sunday, for the purpose of conferring any of the degrees of Masonry.

SEC. 2. Every Lodge shall, on the first day of May and November of each year, make a complete return of its members to the Grand Secretary, stating particularly the date of each initiation, passing and raising, the degrees of its members, the admissions, deaths, rejection of candidates, suspensions, expulsions and reinstatements of members, accompanied with the whole amount of its dues to the Grand Lodge, together with its name and number, and the time and place of its stated meetings, agreeable to the form which the Grand Secretary may from time to time direct; which return shall be signed by the Master and Wardens, and attested by the Secretary. And any Lodge that shall fail to make such return or to pay its dues to the Grand Lodge for four stated communications, shall be deemed extinct and its charter forfeited.

SEC. 3. Each new Lodge shall transmit a copy of its By-Laws in duplicate to the Grand Lodge for examination, to see that it contains nothing contrary to the Constitution of the Grand Lodge, or the Ancient Rules and Regulations of Free Masonry. Each Lodge shall in like manner transmit to the Grand Lodge a copy in duplicate of every alteration or amendment of its By-Laws, as soon as any such shall be made.

SEC. 4. Every Lodge shall elect its officers, by ballot annually at the stated meeting immediately preceding St. John the Evangelist's Day. Only a Warden, Past Warden, or Past Master shall be eligible for Worshipful Master. No brother shall be installed Worshipful Master of a Lodge in Baltimore City unless he present a certificate from the Committee on Work, or the Grand Lecturer, that he is qualified to confer the three degrees of Masonry, and pass a satisfactory examination on the 23d Article of the Constitution, and the Standing Resolutions of the Grand Lodge pertaining to the government of Subordinate Lodges, and no brother outside the city, unless he present such a certificate from said Committee, or from the Grand Inspector of his Lodge.

SEC. 5. Secretaries of Lodges shall forward to the Grand Secretary a list of the officers-elect, together with their postoffice addresses immediately after the annual election in their respective Lodges, in order that the same may be published with the Proceedings of the Grand Lodge.

SEC. 6. No Lodge can, at an extra meeting, alter or expunge any part of the proceedings of a stated one.

SEC. 7. No Lodge shall initiate more than five candidates in one session; nor confer more than one degree of Masonry on a brother at the same session, unless by dispensation.

SEC. 8. No Lodge shall act upon the application for initiation of any candidate who has been rejected, within six months after such rejection, and the Secretary of every Lodge in which a rejection, suspension, expulsion or reinstatement takes place shall immediately inform the Grand Secretary.

SEC. 9. No Lodge in the City of Baltimore shall confer the three degrees of Masonry for a less sum than Seventy-five Dollars; in other cities of the State having twenty thousand or more inhabitants for a less sum than Sixty Dollars; and all other Lodges in the State for a less sum than Forty Dollars.

SEC. 10. No Lodge shall initiate a candidate when there is a Lodge under this jurisdiction held nearer to his residence than the one to which he applies, unless the consent of such nearer Lodge be first obtained, except where two or more Lodges are held in the same town, in which case he may apply to either. Provided no Lodge outside the limits of the City of Baltimore shall initiate a candidate who is a resident of said City, without the consent of a Lodge in said City, nor for a less sum than Seventy-five Dollars.

SEC. 11. No Lodge shall receive the petition of a candidate who has been rejected by another Lodge without the consent of the rejecting Lodge, provided it be in existence; nor confer any degree on a brother who has been initiated in another Lodge, without first obtaining, if practicable, its permission.

Every applicant for initiation shall state in his petition whether he has, or has not, been rejected by any Lodge.

The consent of the rejecting Lodge shall be determined by a unanimous ballot, and be properly authenticated over the signatures of the Worshipful Master and Secretary with the seal of the Lodge.

SEC. 12. All petitions for initiation and affiliation shall lie over eight weeks in Baltimore City and four weeks in the counties before a ballot shall be had thereon. Upon receipt of such petitions, notice shall immediately be given to all other Lodges in the city or county in which the application is made, giving the name, residence and occupation of the petitioners. These notices shall be filed in the order of their receipt by the Secretaries of the Lodges, properly fastened by clips and maintained upon their desks at the communications of their Lodges, for the information of such members as may be interested, and this file shall be kept current for four months, after which the expiring lists may be withdrawn. The names and addresses with date of action of all petitions shall be placed upon the usual notices of all Lodges sent to their membership.

Note—The size of the notices to Lodges shall be $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches by $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches and shall be printed across the narrow width.

SEC. 13. When a Lodge in a county shall receive a petition for initiation from a resident of Baltimore City, or of a Lodge of said City, a petition for initiation from a resident of any county, eight weeks shall elapse before action shall be taken thereon, and notices, as required between Lodges of said City, shall be sent to all Lodges in the city or county in which said application is made.

SEC. 14. No petition for initiation or membership shall be acted on in any Lodge at the same meeting at which it is received. Committees for the purpose of inquiring into the character of candidates shall always consist of three Master Masons.

In no case shall a degree be conferred by any Lodge upon a credit, and no Lodge in the City of Baltimore shall act on any petition for initiation, unless the whole amount to be paid for the three degrees accompanies the petition.

SEC. 15. Lodges shall exact from all candidates for advancement from one degree to another, an examination in open Lodge, and no Lodge shall advance a brother until he has shown sufficient proficiency in the degree he has received, said proficiency to be determined by ballot, five negative ballots being necessary to postpone the brother's advancement until suitable proficiency is shown in the work.

Balloting upon proficiency for advancement for the Fellow Craft and Master Mason's degrees may be taken upon more than one candidate at the same time. In the event of five (5) negative votes, each candidate shall be balloted on separately.

SEC. 16. No Lodge shall admit to membership or initiate a candidate without the unanimous consent of the members present, by ballot, and no petition for initiation, when once before the Lodge, can be withdrawn, but must be acted on within three months after its presentation, except in case of the petitioner's death or removal.

SEC. 17. When a ballot is taken for the degrees or for membership, the result alone may be made known, and the balloting shall be definitely closed at the same meeting of the Lodge, without calling off or closing the Lodge after the ballot shall have commenced—and the ballot, for the purpose of correcting an error, may be repeated not to exceed a third time.

(This means not more than four ballots.)

SEC. 18. No Lodge shall on any account initiate a candidate who is under twenty-one years of age, nor initiate, pass or raise a candidate whose physical defects prevent him from conforming literally to all the requirements of the several degrees of Ancient Craft Masonry; provided, however, that in cases of candidates who have been injured or incapacitated in the service of the Army or Navy of the United States in line of duty, the Grand Master is authorized to waive disabilities which do not prevent a substantial compliance with the requirements of initiation, passing and raising.

SEC. 19. No Lodge shall admit to membership any Mason in arrears to an extinct Lodge at the time of its demise, until he shall have paid to the Grand Lodge said arrears, unless the dues of the subordinate Lodge shall have been remitted by the Grand Lodge.

SEC. 20. No Master Mason, residing within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, and not an affiliated member of some subordinate Lodge, shall be allowed to visit in a Lodge, without invitation from the Master.

SEC. 21. No Lodge shall admit to membership any brother who is already a member of a Lodge, under the jurisdiction of this or any other Grand Lodge.

SEC. 23. All business, except that which relates specially to the subordinate degrees, shall be transacted in the Lodge sitting in the third degree.

SEC. 24. No Lodge has power to try charges against the presiding officer thereof. But any three members may prefer charges for neglect or mal-conduct against him to the Grand Lodge.

No appeal shall be heard unless taken within six months after the action of the subordinate Lodge. Any brother appealing to the Grand Lodge shall do so by written notice to the Secretary of the subordinate Lodge and of the Grand Lodge, and if such brother desires it, he may bring his appeal during recess to the notice of the Committee on Grievance, whose duty it shall thereupon be to enquire into the matter, so that it may be prepared to report at the next communication. The investigation on appeal shall be confined to the charges and evidence before the subordinate Lodge, and its action and the decisions of the Master thereupon; and where a brother is tried upon any charges it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the subordinate Lodge to take down in writing the evidence offered, and, with the Master, to certify the correctness of the same, as well as the decisions of the Master and action of the Lodge in the case.

SEC. 27. All complaints and charges against a brother, to be tried in any Lodge under this jurisdiction, shall be reduced to writing, specifically setting forth the cause of grievance, and signed by the complainant or complainants, and a copy thereof served on the accused, except where the accused shall be beyond the jurisdiction of the Lodge. When all the parties shall have been summoned to attend thereon, and the case shall have been investigated, such order and adjudication may be made as shall be authorized by the laws and regulations of Masonry.

SEC. 28. No Mason shall be reinstated without the unanimous consent of all the members of the Lodge present. All such applications must be in writing, signed by the applicant, and recommended by at least two members of the Lodge.

SEC. 29. Upon the demise of a Lodge the last Secretary and Treasurer shall immediately transmit or surrender to the Grand Secretary, or to any other brother who may be appointed by the Grand Master to receive them, the charter, seal, books, papers, jewels, furniture and funds of said Lodge.

SEC. 30. Should any extinct Lodge that has neither made returns nor paid dues to the Grand Lodge for three years, apply for a new charter, or for a resuscitation of the old one, said Lodge, if so revived, shall take rank junior to all Lodges that have maintained their standing, unless it shall pay all its arrearages to the Grand Lodge.

LAWRENCE SANGSTON

First Worshipful Master, 1859

LAWRENCE SANGSTON was born in Caroline County, Maryland, October 4, 1814. He was named after Captain Lawrence, of the Chesapeake and Shannon fame. In early life he was in the mechanical department of the old and long established hardware house of Richard Norris. At a subsequent period he became a partner in the dry goods house of Sangston & Co., his brother James being a senior member of the firm, of which George E. Sangston was also a member. When that firm dissolved he wound up the business, and on the death of his brother took charge of his affairs. At a latter period he was frequently called upon to adjust accounts and act as arbitrator in mercantile disputes.

On the 24th of April, 1861, he was elected on the States' Rights ticket in Baltimore City to the extra session of the Maryland Legislature which met on April 26, at Frederick City. On the order of Major General John A. Dix, issued from Fort McHenry, September 12, 1861, Mr. Sangston was arrested together with the Mayor of Baltimore, George William Brown, S. Teackle Wallis, Henry May, members of Congress, and fourteen other prominent citizens. They were committed to Fort McHenry, then to Fort Lafayette, and afterward to Fort Warren.

After the war, Mr. Sangston was actively engaged in relief work for the South. It was largely through his efforts that funds were raised and agricultural implements, seed, and other things furnished which were necessary to rehabilitate portions of Virginia, North Carolina, and other southern states.

His devotion to this cause is well known in Baltimore, where he had many co-workers in the mercantile and business community. He was in late years interested in the South Carolina phosphate discoveries. At the time of his death, he was president of the Maryland Fertilizing Company.

He was never prominent in politics, though ready with his services for his city or state where there was need for brave and intelligent men in trying times.

Brother Sangston was made a Mason in Concordia Lodge No. 13, received the Entered Apprentice Degree June 28, 1848, passed to the Fellowcraft Degree July 7, 1848, and raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason July 21, 1848. He was elected Junior Warden June, 1850, reelected December, 1850, elected Senior Warden June 1851, reelected December 1851, elected Worshipful Master June 1852. He withdrew from Concordia Lodge No. 13, to assist in the formation of Arcana Lodge No. 110, and was elected as the first Worshipful Master, and installed as Worshipful Master by M. W. Grand Master Charles Goodwin in open Grand Lodge at the annual communication held November 1859. He withdrew from Arcana Lodge No. 110, to assist in the formation of Maryland Lodge No. 120, and when the Charter was issued November 20, 1865, was elected Treasurer. He was elected Senior Grand Warden in the years 1852 and 1865 to 1868.

Brother Sangston presented the Grand Lodge of Maryland, at the semi-annual communication, May 9, 1864, a book of the proceedings of Lodges in Leonard-Town, in St. Mary's County, during the years of 1719-60-62-64, together with a number of old papers, records, accounts, etc., as a relic of the past of more than a century.

He received the Capitular Degrees in Phoenix Chapter.

He was knighted in Maryland Commandery No. I, April 26, 1850.

Lawrence Sangston died at his residence, Huntington Avenue and St. Paul Street of heart trouble, November 7, 1876. The funeral took place from Grace Episcopal Church, and was attended by Maryland Commandery, delegates from Maryland Lodge No. 120, Adoniram R. A. Chapter No. 21, and numerous friends and acquaintances. The interment took place in Greenmount Cemetery.

Lawrence Sangston, a Past Master of Concordia Lodge No. 13, and other Master Masons, desiring to form a new Lodge in the City of Baltimore, Maryland, petitioned the M. W. Grand Master Charles Goodwin for a dispensation to form a Lodge to make Master Masons after the manner of Free and Accepted Masons.

In 1848 he was elected R. W. Senior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, and W. M. Grand Master in 1858, serving a year in each office. It was during his régime that the Arcana Lodge Charter was granted. In the work of the Chapter he was active, presiding as High Priest in Phoenix Chapter, No. 7, and later as the first High Priest of St. John's Chapter, No. 19.

He was elected as Scribe of the Grand Chapter of Maryland in 1855, and a year later as King.

An active and prosperous merchant, occupying many prominent positions of trust in the community, he became in the latter part of his life, the President of the Franklin Bank.

CHARLES ROBERT GWYNN

Worshipful Master, 1860

CHARLES ROBERT GWYNN was born in Freeport, Gloucester County, Virginia, January 14, 1809, son of Hugh and Caroline Tomkies Gwynn.

He came to Baltimore, Maryland, when a boy to learn the mercantile business. For many years he was identified with the wholesale dry goods trade and at one time was with the firm of Sangston and Company. Later he entered business for himself trading as Gwynn and Company, and later as Gwynn, Read and Taylor.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, his sympathies were with the Confederacy. He left Baltimore, Maryland, and returned to his old home, at Freeport, Virginia.

At the close of the war, he found himself very much reduced in circumstances, and returned to Baltimore, to begin anew the struggles for existence. He secured employment with the firm of Chestnut and Company, and later with P. T. George and Company. With this firm he remained until the year 1882, when he retired from active business.

Charles Robert Gwynn was well known throughout Maryland and Virginia, and was popular among a large circle of friends.

He married Miss Mary Sangston (sister of Lawrence Sangston) to whom were born one daughter and four sons.

His Masonic record states briefly his Masonic career. He was made a Mason about 1848, placing his demit in Arcana Lodge, No. 110, at its formation August 25, 1859, and chosen as the first Senior Warden.

August 7, 1865. He requested a demit, which was granted.

Charles Robert Gwynn died January 7, 1892, at his late residence, 1837 W. Lexington Street. The funeral services were held January 9, 1892, interment in family lot in Greenmount Cemetery.

He was survived by four sons, and one daughter.

January 2, 1860. A visiting brother was assisted on his way home by the Lodge. This was the first case tendered assistance by the Lodge.

January 16, 1860. Past Master F. J. Thomas offered the Lodge a donation of books, as a nucleus of a library of the use of the members. A librarian was appointed to care for the books donated, and any additional books which hereafter be made thereto.

January 23, 1860. A special communication for the purpose of exemplifying the catechism of the Entered Apprentice Degree, by Worshipful Master Robert Gwynn for the benefit of all members of the craft, and also Brother Francis M. Hay, an Entered Apprentice of the Lodge.

November 20, 1866. The laying of the cornerstone of the New Masonic Temple, North Charles Street, Baltimore, Maryland. On the morning of the twentieth day of November, the streets were crowded with throngs of people, old and young, and of all classes, waiting anxiously for the promised display of the Masonic Fraternity. On the night preceding a slight rain had fallen, and the morning had arrived a hazy one, but as the day advanced the sun shown bright and clear. The procession started at 11 o'clock A.M. from Holliday Street Square, passed into Baltimore Street, which like the entire route of the procession was densely packed with people, to Eutaw Street, thence to Monument Street, to Mount Vernon Place, around the monument of George Washington, who was through life an honored member of the Order. In passing around the square, the entire body of Masons uncovered in reverence to the "Father of the Country," thence to Park Street, thence to Franklin Street, where the line halted, and stood in open line formation. The lines thus formed stood at attention with heads uncovered. The Grand Lodge of Maryland then marched through these lines down Park Street, to Franklin Street, to the mansion of his Excellency, Governor Swann, where the Governor and his staff conducted Brother Andrew Johnson, the President of the United States, with his Secretary, Brother Robert Johnson, Past Master, clothed in their Masonic Regalia into line. This was a repetition of history, for on the thirteenth day of September in the year 1793, George Washington the first incumbent of this high office, clothed in Masonic collar and apron assisted the Grand Lodge of Maryland in laying the cornerstone of the Capitol of the United States in the City of Washington, D. C. Many people greeted the Grand Lodge of Maryland upon their arrival at the site of the Temple. Here the Grand Lodge proceeded direct to the East, where with the President of the United States, his Secretary, and the Governor of Maryland and his Staff, where they occupied a slightly raised platform. The members of the Grand Lodge were stationed to the right of this platform in close proximity to the cornerstone. The Knights Templar in their magnificent array of swords glittering and regalia gleaming brightly in the noontide sun, were placed to the left of the platform, extending far around the sides; a choir of two hundred voices of both sexes, with an orchestra of thirty-nine instruments, under the directorship of Brother Robert J. Kerr, M.D., and near the front of the raised platform were many bands attached to the various Lodges. Shortly after the Grand Lodge of Maryland arrived upon the site of the Temple the Most Worshipful Grand Master, John Coates assisted by the Grand Lodge Officers proceeded to lay the cornerstone. Brother Lawrence Sangston, the first Worshipful Master of Arcana Lodge participated in the ceremonies.

Barth, one of the first to receive the Master Mason degree in this Lodge, was reported to have occurred at New Orleans, La., of yellow fever (known as the yellow fever epidemic, which caused the death of thousands in the southern states, and in the northern states as well.)

October 4, 1867. The Grand Lodge of Maryland convened to consider a communication, received by Most Worshipful Grand Master John Coates, from the Building Committee of the New City Hall, desiring that the cornerstone of the New City Hall should be laid by the fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, and invited the Grand Lodge of Maryland to be present and perform that part of the ceremonies, to take place on the seventeenth day of October, 1867.

Master John Coates laid the cornerstone. Oration by Hon. Brother John H. B. Latrobe.

December 16, 1867. Brother Charles W. Dorsey was elected and installed Worshipful Master.

Brother Chas. E. Kemp, the retiring Master addressed the Lodge as follows:

Brethren: As I am about to retire from the position to which I have been elevated by your suffrage, I beg to return my sincere thanks for the honor conferred, and for the kind consideration with which my many errors have at all times been overlooked. In the discharge of my duties as Master of the Lodge, I have ever felt sensible of my inability to attain to that degree of excellence which the position demands, and to which many of my predecessors have reached. Yet to none will I yield a more zealous attachment to that Institution at whose shrine we have met tonight. We are here to elect officers for the ensuing six months, and I trust that in your selection you will be actuated both by qualifications of the candidate, as well as punctuality to their Masonic duties. In this connection I beg to call attention to a more constant attendance at our meetings. Brethren, we need your co-operation in order that Arcana Lodge No. 110 may maintain its position as a star of the first magnitude in this Masonic Constellation.

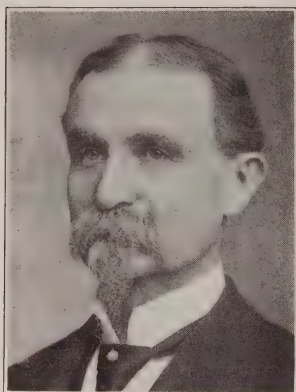

To you, young members of the Lodge, I desire especially to appeal, that you come through the terrors of the winters, and the heat of summers to aid us in this glorious cause. Many of us here present can remember the time in the early history of the Lodge, when it was an unusual thing to have one of our members absent. Why is it so now? Has Masonry lost that charmed influence, by which for centuries it has been surrounded, or have we as a class degenerated? I sometimes fear that we have introduced into our spiritual building too many ashlar unfitted for the craftsman's use, too many stones which have not stood the test of the overseer's square. Let us be more careful therefore in the future to inspect the material with which our sacred edifice is being erected, that the honor and glory of the constitution may be maintained, in its ancient purity, and its usefulness perpetuated. I would recommend that the speedy collection of the indebtedness of the members of the Lodge, or the suspension of those who fail to comply with their obligation in this respect, as you must be aware, that those who neither pay their dues, nor visit the Lodge, do not reflect any credit on Masonry, but hang about as like an incubus, clogging the wheels of your progress, and should, like weeds in the garden of perfection, be carefully eradicated.

In conclusion brethren let me add that although I resign the place which I now occupy to my successor, yet in the future as in the past, I shall ever be found at the port of duty, ready and willing to work in any capacity to which you in your wisdom may assign me. (This address was taken from the records of the communication, at which it was delivered.)

DAVID HUTZLER

DAVID HUTZLER, son of Moses and Ella Hutzler, was born in Baltimore City, June 13, 1843. He was educated in the Public Schools, and finished his studies in the Baltimore High School in 1858.

His father Moses Hutzler, in the year of 1858, associated with his eldest son Abram G. Hutzler, opened the lace and embroidery business at the southwest corner of Howard and Clay Streets, the firm being called "M. Hutzler & Son."

In 1867 the father, Moses Hutzler, retired from active business, and the two younger brothers, David and Charles G. Hutzler were made members of the firm, and founded the firm "Hutzler Brothers."

A wholesale notion business was then opened by Abram and Charles G. Hutzler on Baltimore Street, leaving David the youngest member of the firm, in charge of the retail business in Howard Street.

This establishment prospered greatly under the keen supervision of David Hutzler, and it was found necessary to acquire additional space to enlarge the Howard Street establishment. In 1874 the necessary surrounding property was obtained, and improvements were made, giving the establishment a space five times as great as the original.

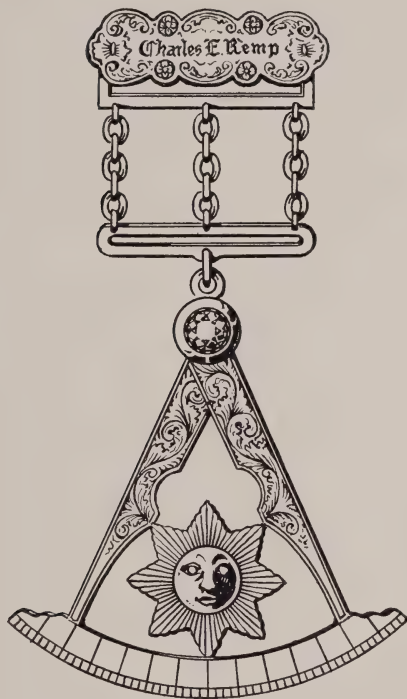

In 1884 the establishment under the management of David Hutzler became too great a burden for one man alone to manage, and the brothers Abram G. and Charles G. Hutzler determined to discontinue the wholesale notion business conducted by them on Baltimore Street, and devote all their energies to the Howard Street establishment. With the assistance of Abram and Charles the business grew rapidly, and in 1886 a new building was erected. In 1906 additional space was acquired, and in 1932 a general reconstruction was rapidly nearing completion.

David Hutzler married the daughter of Joel Gutman, a prominent merchant of Baltimore. He petitioned Arcana Lodge for the degrees of Masonry December 18, 1865, was elected December 18, 1865, initiated January 1, 1866, passed January 15, 1866, and raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason January 29, 1866.

He was elected Junior Warden December 17, 1866, Senior Warden December 30, 1867, and Worshipful Master December 21, 1868.

He served in this capacity three terms, from December 21, 1868, to June 22, 1870.

On June 21, 1869, he presided as Worshipful Master at the last communication held by Arcana Lodge in its first meeting place, Eureka Hall, No. 3 South Carey Street.

He presided as Worshipful Master at the communication held June 23, 1869, in the newly completed Masonic Temple, North Charles facing Clay Street. (This was the first communication held by Arcana Lodge No. 110 in the Masonic Temple.)

On July 13, 1870, he was elected one of the first five to serve as Trustees of the Relief Fund of Arcana Lodge.

On the evening of September 13, 1871, he with five other Past Masters, were presented a beautiful Past Master's jewel. (The first jewels to be presented to Past Masters of Arcana Lodge.)

He was made an Honorary Life Member in the year 1897.

Exalted in Adoniram R. A. Chapter No. 21, and served in the various stations, and in the year of 1872 was elected and installed High Priest.

David Hutzler died January 21, 1915, and was buried from his home No. 1801 Eutaw Street. A delegation of officers and members of Arcana Lodge No. 110, attended the services. His remains were conveyed to Har Sinai Cemetery, Friend and Loney's Lanes, where the body after solemn ceremonies was interred.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Ella J. Hutzler, two sons, Joel and Charles D. Hutzler, and three daughters, Mrs. Henry Oppenheimer, Mrs. Jacob Hollander, and Mrs. Solomon Schaefer.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens, and Brethren of Arcana Lodge No. 110.

The Trustees and Officers of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church South, have instructed me to communicate to you their respectful request, that you will lay the cornerstone of their New Church Edifice, now in course of erection on Fayette Street, a little east of Republican Street. The religious services including brief addresses from the Rev. Dr. Munsey and others, will commence at 3 o'clock P.M., New Year's Day in the Franklin Square Presbyterian Church (Dr. Lefevre) to which the officers and members are specially invited. It is proposed that the religious services ended, the Lodge shall march in procession to the edifice, and witness the cornerstone laying.

Fraternally,

L. D. HURTON, Pastor,
President Board of Trustees.

January 1, 1869. Arcana Lodge No. 110 laid the cornerstone of the St. Paul's M. E. Church South. (This church was erected upon the site of the first meeting place of Arcana Lodge.) Notwithstanding the unpleasantness of the weather, quite a fair attendance was present at the Franklin Square Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. A. Lefevre, Pastor, to witness the ceremonies attendant on the cornerstone laying of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church South, now in course of erection on Fayette Street, east of Republican Street.

The Franklin Square Church was kindly tendered by the Pastor and Elders for the religious services appropriate to the occasion, the weather rendering it almost impossible to hold them at the site of the new church. The exercises began with a hymn by the choir, followed by a fervent prayer by the Rev. J. A. LeFevre. Rev. Dr. Houston who had charge of St. Paul's congregation, then gave a sketch of the history of the M. E. Church South in Baltimore; dating from the separation at Staunton, Virginia, in the conference of 1861. He traced the trials and tribulations of the church during the dark days of the late war; when he said worshipers of God were almost hunted down in secluded places they had sought to worship. He congratulated the people on the increase of church membership, which necessitated the erection of this new temple.

He was followed in a brief address by the Rev. Dr. William E. Munsey, of the Central M. E. Church, after which the congregation, preceded by Arcana Lodge No. 110, in full regalia, moved to the site of the new church, a few squares off. The ceremonies of laying the cornerstone in accordance with Masonic rites then took place, Rev. Dr. John McCron, Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Maryland (1865 to 1872), officiating. The wine, oil and corn were duly placed after which the box containing a sketch of the history of St. Paul's Church, a list of members and Sunday School teachers and scholars, copies of the Episcopal, Methodist and Baltimore daily papers, a number of coins presented by Dr. S. D. Smith, Esq., on behalf of his children; the Bible, hymn book and discipline, together with the minutes of the day's proceedings, were lowered into its proper receptacle in the corner stone and covered. The ceremonies then closed with benediction.

The church which will be finished, it is expected by Spring, will be 75 feet front by 85 feet deep, of decorated Gothic architectural front, in various colored concrete stone, furnished by the Baltimore City Concrete Company. The edifice will be two stories high; the lower floor is to be used for Sunday School, and the upper to be devoted to church purposes. An interior stairway on each side of the vestibule will lead to the upper room. Two Gothic spires, one 50 feet and the other 80 feet high, with belfries, will add greatly to the front of the church. The architectural designs were by Thomas Dixon, the contractors being Messrs. Carson & Brother, under the direction of the building committee of church members. The estimate cost of the edifice is $40,000.

A communication received from Columbia Lodge No. 58, of Frederick, Maryland, publishing a John Geisinger of Columbia Lodge as an impostor to the Craft.

June 7, 1869. An amendment to the by-laws as proposed by Brother Hermon L. Emmons, at the stated communication held on May 17, 1869, to change the meetings of the Lodge to the second and fourth Wednesday nights of each month, was acted upon and adopted.

June 21, 1869. Brother David Hutzler was re-elected and installed Worshipful Master. This was the last communication held by Arcana Lodge No. 110 in Eureka Hall, No. 3 S. Carey Street, Brother Hermon L. Emmons, Jr., having procured by voluntary subscription, a suitable testimonial, he arose and addressed the Lodge, and offered the following resolution, "WHEREAS, our friend and brother Charles E. Kemp, by his courtesy, patience, and attention to the members of the Fraternity at large, his industry, and constant attendance, and unswerving devotion to the interest of Arcana Lodge No. 110, A. F. and A. M., has exemplified in an eminent degree, the character of an upright, earnest, and consistent Mason. Therefore be it Resolved, that Brother James W. Bowers, be instructed to express to Brother Charles E. Kemp, the sincere thanks of the Lodge, and present to him a suitable testimonial expressing the high regards of Brotherly Love entertained for him by the members of Arcana Lodge." At the conclusion of the reading and adopting of the resolution as proposed by Brother Emmons, Past Master James W. Bowers addressed the Lodge.

The address of Brother James W. Bowers on the evening of the last communication held in the Lodge Room No. 3 S. Carey Street. Worshipful Sir: As this is the last communication we shall hold in this hall (No. 3 S. Carey Street) it has been thought proper that some member of Arcana Lodge should make a few remarks relative to our history, and progress as a Lodge. Being the oldest presiding Past Master the duty has devolved upon me.

About the middle of the year of 1859, a few members of the fraternity, residing in the western part of the city, consulted with each other as to the propriety of forming a Lodge, in that new and growing section. The result of the general consultation culminated in application to the Most Worshipful Charles Goodwin, then the Grand Master of Masons in Maryland, for a dispensation to open and hold a Lodge for the purpose of making Masons after the manner of Free and Accepted Masons. The application was graciously acceded to, and the meeting to organize under the dispensation was held on the evening of August 25, 1859, in the year of Masonry 5859. A small room over the coal office of William Rogers of Jacob on West Fayette St., a part of the same lot where St. Paul's Methodist Church South is now being built, the cornerstone of which was laid a short time since by this Lodge. At this meeting the dispensation was read authorizing Brothers Sangston, Gwynn, Kemp, Norris, Cox, E. R. Newman, Bowers, Benbury, Wood, Kirkland, Morrison, Barth, E. P. Newman, Miller, Arthur, Hay, Rosenwrig, and Thrope (18 in all), to open and hold a Lodge, under the dispensation. Lawrence Sangston was appointed Worshipful Master, Robert Gwynn, Senior Warden, Chas. E. Kemp, Junior Warden, who appointed Brother B. F. Norris, Senior Deacon, Brother William H. Cox, Junior Deacon, Brother James W. Bowers, Secretary, Brother E. R. Newman, Treasurer, and Brother E. Morrison, Tyler. Besides the above there were present at this meeting: Brothers Wood, Kirkland, Miller, Benbury, and E. P. Newman, and visiting brethren Blair, Corns, Jennings, and Griffith.

After the organization of the Lodge and opening in due form it was resolved: First, That the name of the new Lodge be ARCANA. Second, Naming the initiation fee. Third, Adopting the by-laws of Concordia Lodge. Fourth, That the Tyler's fee be One Dollar a night. Fifth, That we meet hereafter at Eureka Hall, No. 3 S. Carey Street, on the 1st, 3rd, and 5th, Mondays of each month.

The secretary volunteered to perform the duties of his office gratuitously. The Worshipful Master appointed the next Monday (August 29), being the fifth Monday in August as our first regular meeting. At this meeting the first application for initiation was received from Mr. B. F. Bartholow, now a Past Master, of this Lodge, and John H. Barth since deceased. They were initiated at a special meeting called for the purpose on the evening of September 26, 1859.

From this small beginning we have worked harmoniously and successfully, through the troubled years of the late unfortunate Civil War, and the brethren who were then active working members, have claimed and justly too, I think, their need of praise for the entire exclusion of all irritating subjects, from the precincts of the Lodge Room, and although our Lodge contained as much combustible material, as could have been collected together in the same number of men. Yet nothing ever occurred to mar the peace and harmony of our meetings, here at least we all met on the level, acted by the plumb, and parted on the square, and Worshipful Master Sir: When I reflect on that eventful period knowing as I did the character of the men composing the Lodge, even now, I wonder that we escaped the evils of dissension, that like so many of the border states Lodges, but the favor of the Supreme Architect of the Universe has rested upon us, and has been ever with us, and from the small beginning of eighteen members, thirteen of whom were present on that sultry August evening "59," we have grown to be the fifth lodge in point of members, in our jurisdiction, and the first (I say it without the fear of successful contradiction) the first in point of Masonic knowledge in the work of the Grand Lodge, and in adherence to the Ancient Landmarks of our time honored Fraternity, during this decade, for there remain but a few meetings to complete our tenth year.

We have been so careful of our selection of the rough ashlar from the great quarry about us, that we have had but one trial and suspension from our Lodge, thus proving what I have already asserted, a high standard of Masonic character. And now Worshipful Sir: Before closing this brief statement allow me to pay a tribute of respect to those of our Charter Members who have been removed from our companionship, to a seat in the Great Lodge above. The first on the roll was our venerable Tyler, who, having lived to a ripe old age, conscientious in performance of every duty, was removed by the fiat of the Grand Architect of the Universe to the Celestial Lodge above. The next, Brother Edward P. Newman, who was cut down by the grim tyrant death in the flush of early manhood, away from his home, but in the care of loving brethren, who did all they could to soothe his last moments. Then followed Brothers James H. Benbury and B. F. Norris, the last of whom had severed his connection with us some years previous to his death, all of them good and true Masons; who in their lives exemplified the principles of our beloved Fraternity.

“Worshipful Sir: They have preceded us to the Supreme Lodge where we must all be summoned to appear and answer for the performance of the duties self imposed at that sacred altar. May our record be as clear as the meridian sun, may no spot stain the bright escutcheon of a Master Mason, which we are proud to bear upon our front. And now Worshipful Sir: We are about to leave this hall which is endeared to us by so many pleasant appreciations, let us all resolve to carry with us to our new place of meeting additional earnestness and zeal in the performance of our ever duty, for with Masonry it is duty, it is a system of labor, its first lessons are patience, and perseverance, and that which each enjoys shall be the fruits of his own labor, assiduity and skill, its character is not to be built up by ostentatious display, or sounding professions, but by the fruits of its action it shall be judged at last. There will be no want of opportunity for the proof and approval of your work.

There is no want of material that you should stand idle, while others are gathering and setting the silver and gold, and precious stones which shall bear their marks on the noblest ornaments of the Temple. The unnumbered band of workmen dispersed about the earth will strive to share with you in every labor of benevolence. Your work will be framed and fitted by the instruments of Solomon, and their beauty shall be as the cunning workmanship of Hiram and Tubal, your journey shall be with the illustrious of the earth, and in goodly company of wayfarers, who have passed in the Grand Masonic procession of all times, which still goes on to the undiscovered country, entering in by the dim and awful veil."

At the conclusion of the address Brother James W. Bowers presented the Past Master Chas. E. Kemp a beautiful Past Master's Jewel, which was received by Brother Kemp, with much feeling, but in his usual happy style. (This was the first Past Master's Jewel to be presented a Past Master by Arcana Lodge.) After these ceremonies were concluded, the members held a reunion session, the last to be held in their first meeting place Eureka Hall.

The finances subscribed to be used to complete the unfinished obelisk to George Washington, which for more than a quarter of a century had disgraced the city he founded. A subscription of $500,000 would be necessary to place the cap-stone on the shaft at a height of 485 feet, which would make it the tallest building in the world. No work to be commenced, no money collected, until the full amount required had been pledged. It was the determination of the committee, if work again be resumed, the monument to George Washington would be completed. The cornerstone of the George Washington monument at Washington, D. THE MASONIC BOARD OF RELIEF

The Semi-Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, was held on May 9, 1876, in the Masonic Temple, on N. Charles St., in the City of Baltimore.

In the absence of the Most Worshipful Grand Master John H. B. Latrobe, who as a Commissioner of Maryland was attending the opening of the Centennial Exhibition, Brother Francis Burns, Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, called Brother Charles E. Hayward, Right Worshipful Senior Grand Warden to the chair, who opened the Grand Lodge in form, with prayer by the Reverend Joseph B. Stitt, Grand Chaplain.

In the periods preceding this Communication of the Grand Lodge, it had been the custom of the subordinate Lodges in making charitable contributions, if the Lodge called upon should find itself unable financially to render assistance, it would by written request ask the help of the sister Lodges in meeting the charitable demands made upon them. This method was found to be an undesirable one, and the subordinate Lodges sought for a proper protection of the Lodges in the City of Baltimore, by a more systematical mode of dispensing charity.

At the Communication held November 15, 1875, Brother Fickey submitted preambles and resolutions for the formation of a Lodge of Relief, which were submitted to a Committee of one Past Master from each of the Baltimore City Lodges.

At the Semi-Annual Communication held on May 9, 1876, Brother A. Robertson reported and submitted a resolution from the Committee on Relief.

Whereas, It is desirable, for the proper protection of the Lodges in the City of Baltimore, that a more systematic mode of dispensing charity be adopted: therefore be it

Resolved, That each and every Lodge in the City of Baltimore shall, at its next regular election, and at each election thereafter, elect from its members, "One Delegate," who together shall constitute a body to be known as "The Masonic Lodge of Relief," and that the delegate so elected shall serve a term of six months, or until their successors shall have been duly elected.

Resolved, That when the aforesaid delegates have been duly elected, they shall proceed to organize the aforesaid "Lodge of Relief," under such rules and regulations as they may see proper to adopt, consistent with the Constitution and Laws of this Grand Lodge.

Resolved, That the aforesaid "Lodge of Relief" shall receive and dispose of all cases of charity which may be referred to them by the several Lodges in the City of Baltimore, and in order to raise a sufficient revenue for that purpose, shall have power to draw on the said Lodges for an amount not exceeding 50 cents per annum for each and every member upon their rolls; the said assessment to be paid quarterly, and the said Lodge of Relief shall have full and exclusive control over all funds received by them. This resolution was passed, and in obedience to which a meeting of delegates to the Lodge of Relief was held at the Masonic Temple, Baltimore, July 21, 1876. At this meeting Brother Past Master Alvin Coriell of Arcana Lodge No. 110 was appointed President, pro-tempore, Brother E. P. Keech, of Adherence Lodge No. 88, Secretary, pro-tempore. A committee was appointed to draft By-Laws, etc., for the organization, to report at the next meeting.

On August 4, 1876, a meeting was held, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The committee appointed at the previous meeting reported and submitted By-Laws which were accepted and the committee discharged. The following officers were elected: Brother E. P. Keech of Adherence Lodge No. 88, President, Brother J. H. Gale, of Mystic Circle Lodge No. 109, Vice-President, Brother T. B. McCoubrey of St. John's Lodge No. 34, Secretary, and Brother William Leonard of Pythagoras Lodge No. 223, Treasurer.

On August 12, 1876 a meeting was held and after the usual preliminary business, the report of the committee on By-Laws was taken up, amended and adopted, and the following officers were elected: John S. Tyson, of Kedron Lodge No. 158 (Grand Master 1880 to 1884), Martin Emerich of Excelsior Lodge No. 169 (charter surrendered 1880), Vice-President; Albert Lyman, Fidelity Lodge, No. 136, Secretary, and William Leonard of Pythagoras Lodge No. 123, Treasurer.

January 24, 1883. Audit Committee reports balance in Treasury $757.73. A resolution proposed and adopted. That it is the sense of this Lodge, that it is contrary to the ancient tradition and customs of this Order, to have any of the proceedings published in the newspapers, and that it is the duty of the members to discourage such publications in the future. At the May Communication of the Grand Lodge in 1880, a resolution was adopted, prohibiting subordinate Lodges from publishing in the newspapers the nature of the work they proposed doing. This resolution was later repealed at the request and for the convenience of country Lodges, who desired to publish for the information of their members the degree in which the Lodge would work. Grand Master Tyson at the communication held May 8, 1883, in his address said, "My attention has been called to certain publications in newspapers, under the head of 'News in Masonry.' I requested the brother who furnished the information to the press to discontinue it; and he very promptly and kindly complied with my wishes. In these publications there was, of course, no disclosures of any secrets of Masonry, but merely general statements of the nature or degree of the work done, the names of the officers and criticisms upon their proficiency, as compared with other Lodges, and statements as to what it considered a 'Good Night's Work' and how much more work a certain lodge can do in a given time than some others. The newspapers continued to publish 'News in Masonry' but in a less objectionable form. Evidently they had found another reporter.

He appealed to the subordinate Lodges to discontinue, and discourage these publications.”

April 11, 1883. The Grand Master John S. Tyson, accompanied by the Deputy Grand Master W. Abrams, Right Worshipful Senior Grand Warden Albert Ritchie, Right Worshipful Grand Treasurer J. D. A Masonic Lodge can only bury a Brother Master Mason, when requested to do so by the brother before his death; or by the request of his family thereafter, providing he was affiliated, and in good standing at time of his death. Should a Lodge be called upon to bury a Brother Master Mason, they must have exclusive control of the funeral. All pall-bearers must be Masons. The funeral services of the Lodge must be conducted immediately after the services of the church; and when the Masonic ceremonies have been completed the Lodge must leave the grave, if any other burial service is to follow. The Lodge may attend the funeral, even though other societies attend, but they cannot allow any other society to participate in the ceremonies, until the Masonic ceremonies are fully completed and after the Lodge has left the grave. A few months since, the secular press contained the somewhat startling statement that the Grand Lodge of the State of Washington had extended fraternal recognition to the so-called Negro Grand Lodges of our country. We indulge the hope that our brethren of the far north-west will reconsider their action in this matter and resume their relations with the family of the American Grand Lodges by rescinding their actions in the premises at the earliest opportunity. We, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Fraternally submitted,
Edward T. Schultz
John M. Carter
Thomas Footer

Resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Maryland hereby reaffirms its adherence to the doctrine of Grand Lodge territorial jurisdiction; that is to say, a Grand Lodge first organized in a state or territory has the supreme control over Symbolic Masonry, and is the sole judge of what are, or are not, legitimate Masonic organizations within its territorial limits.

Resolved, That this doctrine having been acquiesced in by every American Grand Lodge, and the experience of a century having proven that it is a wise and wholesome doctrine, by which the Grand Lodges have been enabled to dwell together in peace and harmony. The Grand Lodge of Maryland views with regret and alarm the action of the Grand Lodge of Washington in the abrogation and setting aside of this doctrine by recognition of Dual Grand Lodges in a large number of the jurisdictions of our country.

Resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Maryland fraternally, but most earnestly, trusts that the Grand Lodge of Washington will, at its next annual communication, reconsider said action, and thereby promote that peace and harmony which has ever characterized the family of American Grand Lodges.

Resolved, That a copy of this report, with the resolutions attached, be forwarded to the Grand Lodge of Washington, and to all Grand Lodges with which this Grand Lodge is in fraternal communication.

THE FIRST PAST MASTER'S JEWEL PRESENTED TO CHARLES E. KEMP, PAST MASTER, JUNE 21, 1869

On the evening of June 21, 1869, Arcana Lodge No. 110, A. F. & A. M. held its last communication in Eureka Hall, located at No. 3 South Carey Street. In this hall the Lodge held its regular communication since September 5, 1859. It was an evening of much joy in the celebration of the removal of the Lodge to their new future home in the newly completed Masonic Temple in North Charles Street.

At a stated communication held May 17, 1869, a resolution was proposed by Herman L. Emmons, Jr., Junior Warden, that the Secretary be ordered to publish notice of the Lodge's removal, and a social reunion of the members to be held June 21, 1869. This resolution was adopted at the communication held June 7, 1869.

At the stated communication June 21, 1869, the Lodge was presided over by the following officers:

- David Hutzler.....Worshipful Master
- Stephen C. Bush.....Senior Warden
- H. L. Emmons, Jr.....Junior Warden
- Jesse Hay.....Treasurer
- Robert M. Hart.....Secretary
- John W. Hopper.....Senior Deacon
- George W. Horton.....Junior Deacon
- W. H. Nicholson.....Tyler

The evening was that of sociability and banqueting. The address of the evening was eloquently delivered by Past Master and Grand Lecturer James W. Bowers. James W. Bowers was selected as the orator on this occasion, he being then the oldest living Past Master of Arcana Lodge No. 110. Past Master James W. Bowers in his address outlined the progress of the Lodge from its inception, and the first meeting held on August 29, 1859, of the intense heat prevailing on that evening. Of the Charter Members he mentioned the names of the following brethren:

Brother Lawrence Sangston
Brother Robert Gwynn
Brother Benj. F. Norris
Brother Charles E. Kemp
Brother William Cox
Brother E. R. Newman
Brother James H. Benbury
Brother James W. Bowers
Brother William M. Woods
Brother Edward P. Kirkland
Brother E. Morrison
Brother M. A. Miller
Brother Edward P. Newman
Brother William C. Arthur
Brother Samuel Barth
Brother Jesse Hay
Brother E. Rosenwig
Brother William R. Beck
Brother Charles A. Thorpe
Brother William C. Forney (withdrew)
Brother Thomas L. Hughes (withdrew)

He spoke of the Lodge members' experiences during the years of the Civil War, his admiration of those members who by their untiring efforts made it possible to hold regular communications and to confer degrees. Also of the membership refraining from holding discussions upon irritating subjects, particularly on the subject of Civil War; as each member had full knowledge that Arcana Lodge contained as much combustible material as could be collected together in the same number of men, yet with all harmony prevailed at all times.

In alluding to the thirteen members present on that sultry evening of August 25, 1859, the Lodge had grown to be the fifth largest Lodge in point of membership in the jurisdiction of Maryland; and the first in point of Masonic knowledge in the work of the Grand Lodge, and in adherence to the Ancient Landmarks of our time honored fraternity. The selection of new material for membership had been with utmost care, selecting the rough ashler from the great quarries surrounding them, that but one trial and suspension had occurred.

In eulogizing the members who had passed to the far beyond, he spoke of Brother E. Morrison, the first Tyler appointed by the Lodge, of Brother Edward R. Newman, the first elected Treasurer, then followed Brother James H. Benbury the first elected Secretary, and Brother B. F. Norris. These men, all good and true Masons, who in their lives had exemplified the tenets and principles of the fraternity.

At the conclusion of his address, Brother Herman L. Emmons Jr., proposed the following:

WHEREAS—Our friend and Brother Charles E. Kemp, by his courtesy, patience, and attention to the members of the fraternity at large, his industry, constant attendance, and unswerving devotion to the interest of Arcana Lodge No. 110, A. F. & A. M., has exemplified in an eminent degree the character of an upright earnest and consistent Mason.

Therefore resolve—That Brother James W. Bowers be instructed to present him with a suitable testimonial, expressing the high regards of brotherly love entertained for him by the members of Arcana Lodge.

In compliance with the resolution, Brother James W. Bowers presented Brother Charles E. Kemp with appropriate remarks, a beautiful Past Master's jewel, which was received by Brother Kemp with much feeling, and his usual happy style. This jewel was presented in behalf of the members of Arcana Lodge, it having been procured by voluntary subscription from the membership. At the conclusion of the presentation ceremonies the Lodge united in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Past Master Charles E. Kemp departed this life on Wednesday, May 18, 1892, age 69 years, 5 months, and 8 days.

On May 27, 1896, an elapse of more than four years, the then Worshipful Master, Brother Lewis J. Cohen, reported to the Lodge of his purchasing a Past Master's jewel, which had been sold at an auction sale for the sum of seven dollars and fifty cents. The Lodge ordered the Treasurer to reimburse the purchaser the amount expended, and that the jewel be placed in the keeping of the Secretary.

On March 24, 1897, a resolution was proposed that the jewel of Past Master Charles E. Kemp be transferred from the keeping of the Secretary to the keeping of the Treasurer.

On April 14, 1897, the Secretary reported having made the transfer in accordance with the Lodge's order of the Past Master's jewel of Charles E. Kemp to the Treasurer. (This transfer was made on April 12, 1897.)

This jewel was in the keeping of Brother George W. Mowen until November 10, 1910, when the Lodge ordered the Treasurer to present as a loan the jewel of Past Master Kemp to the Masonic Museum of Baltimore City.

Brother Mowen delivered the jewel to the Grand Secretary to be placed in the Masonic Museum for safe keeping. Search was made recently in the Museum for the jewel that a photograph may be had for historical purposes. The Museum was searched, but all the searches were in vain as no jewel of Chas. E. Kemp could be found.

On the death of Brother George Cook, Grand Secretary, his successor, Brother Harry C. Mueller, in rearranging the contents of the vault of his office, came upon an envelope of the Theo. Mottu & Co., Lumber Dealers, 1022 Pennsylvania Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland, and plainly written upon it was the following in ink: "Jewel Property of Arcana Lodge, A. F. & A. M., transferred from A. Coriell to Mowen April 12, 1897, to be held for Arcana Lodge."

This jewel should be encased in a metal or wooden frame, properly marked with a metal marker, entrusted to the care of the Masonic Museum, the bearer to receive the catalogued number of the Museum, this number to be inserted in the minutes of the Lodge for future reference if the jewel should hereafter be required.

Its value to the Lodge should warrant the expenditure, as it being the first Past Master's jewel awarded by the membership.
May 16, 1934. An application for admission to the Masonic Home, Bonnie Blink, was received from Mrs. Frances R. Scott, widow of Wm. R. Scott.

June 20, 1934. The Lodge voted, and agreed to the publication of the history of the Lodge. The contract to be awarded the Waverly Press, to publish 500 copies, delivery to be made November 3, 1934.
